

Recent Posts

ISO 9001:2015
Changes At a
Glance - Not So
Significant?

Partnership	General Management
Company	Global Institute for Financial Management Standards FORMATIONS Limited
Address	ATLAS OFFICE, ATLAS Service Partners, Singapore, 40
Contact	The Institute's Primary Mo:

Send a message

28 April, 2014

Oxebridge
Updates
Reporting Source
Protection Policy

22 April, 2014

The Myth of the Integrated Management System

22 April, 2014

ISO 9001:2015 TC 176 Source: Processing
Member Feedback
Puts ISO

9001:2015 Publication "At Risk"

15 April, 2014

Annex SL Not
Adopted Via ISO
Consensus,
Reports Indicate

14 April, 2014

14 April, 2014

Chris Paris to Present "Risky Business: Future of ISO 9001" at ASQ Huntsville May 13

8 April, 2014

LRQA Ban on Oxebridge Server Blocks Even Supportive Emails

7 April, 2014

Account manager at JLP Events
 Paris Area, France | Nonprofit Organization Management
 JLP Events | Global Institute for Risk Management
 JLP Events | Atlaszoom
 JLP Events | FAS

Click to see snapshot of full profile.

Unable to provide any proof, the G31000 supporters and members instead resorted to their usual tack, of attacking the critic. Then, moderator Alex Dali began warning me that my posts were off-topic, asking me to cut and paste them into other conversations, and finally accusing me of intentionally "spreading false and misleading information." He did not extend the warning to any of the G31000 supporters, like those launching insults or making outrageous claims that risk management could pretty much solve any problem in human existence.

The smoking gun came when I received a LinkedIn message signed by Alex, but coming from the “Madeleine LeBlanc” account:

Madeleine Leblanc
Account manager at G.F. Exter

Christopher,

I asked Bog to avoid interpreting your resources on the ISO 9001 Project wrong discussion line.

Please cut and paste your comments in another discussion.
Thank you for your understanding
Alex

I was unable to accommodate his request within an hour or two, so Mr. Dali instead put me into moderation, forcing all my posts to undergo personal approval by him. I quit the group at that point, writing my reasons to his Alex Dali account.

Nevertheless, a day later, Madeleine Leblanc posted in an ISO 9001 group about the email exchange, revealing "her" knowledge of my email to Mr. Dali, with similar poor spelling often attributed to his French-as-a-first-language.

That was enough to warrant a reverse image search, which yielded some interesting results. The photo used for the Madeleine Leblanc account is from two stock photo companies - iStockphoto and Stockphoto4u, and which has been predominantly used by cosmetic websites to highlight proper eyebrow shape.

This photo appears here, from a post on About.com:

Here is "Ms. Leblanc" again, for the Denova Webspa website:

And another for Osmosis Skincare:

Choosing Your Skin Tone (2013)
Even women look to find a foundation that matches their skin. To find your perfect match, you must first identify your skin undertone. Once you know that, you're off to finding your foundation color is simple.

What is skin undertone?
When matching foundation, first determine your personal undertone. Undertone is the color of the natural pigment underneath your skin. Undertone does not change, and the level of light to dark may change over time due to sun exposure.

Warm	Cool	Neutral
My hair is golden or goes blue to my skin. Beauty examples: Julia Roberts, Cameron Diaz, Jennifer Lopez	A blue tint shines through your hair. Beauty examples: Nicole Kidman, Kate Winslet, Taylor Swift	My skin is exactly opposite my complexion. Beauty examples: Halle Berry, Charlize Theron, Madonna

There is an alternate, if unlikely and elaborate, explanation. Ms. Leblanc could have been a long-time colleague of Mr. Dali, from his days in Atlascope, and set up an account with a fake photo in order to protect her appearance. Mr. Dali then

AAQG accreditation
Get a Quote
aerospace Alex Dali
ANAB
AS9100 AS9100 Rev.
C AS9101 AS9110 AS9100
audit AS certificate mills
certification bodies
CMS CMS accreditation
complaints DMEPOS G31000
guberman IAF IAQG
indefensibles ISO ISO 9000
ISO 9001 ISO
9001:2008 ISO
9001:2015 ISO 13485 ISO
14001 ISO 17021 ISO 31000 LRQA
PEAR public speaking Rapid
ISO 9001 registrars
risk risk management
SN-9001 TC 176 UKAS US TAG

Sign Up for The Oxebridge Report

Enter your email

Sign up

accessed the account
my account, only to e

The next question is: why is our industry so plagued with crazies?

+ Follow   ·   Similar companies

3.1 0 Share Tweet

About Christopher Paris

Christopher Paris is the founder and VP Operations of Oxbridge. He has over 25 years' experience implementing ISO 9001 and AS9100 systems, and is a vocal advocate for the development and use of standards from the point of view of actual users.

Mail | Web | Facebook | LinkedIn | Google+ | More Posts